

Distributed Power Solution

DuraComm's EH series indoor/outdoor power enclosures provide power and battery backup for each node in your network.

DuraComm's rack mount power equipment provides the primary power and battery backup for your main transmitters and receivers. Our remote site monitoring provides the real time status and control of your system via webpage.

Centralized Power Solution

DuraComm's high power rack mount equipment provides the power, distribution, and battery backup for your entire system. Our remote site monitoring provides the real time status and control of your system via webpage.

DuraComm's rack mount power equipment provides the primary power and battery backup for your main transmitters and receivers. Our remote site monitoring provides the real time status and control of your system via webpage.

